

Keys to the past.... gateway to the Future Instead

The school library is changing instead of a stuffy and silent space filled with books, today's school library is becoming collaboration centers, where these teachers and librarians work together. When computers are readily available to children, these children are able to use technology such as search engines comfortably as they compare information and engage in learning.

DAV public school library, an initiative of the school with the multi fold objectives.

-As student can access on enormous amount of knowledge and share content with others facilitating the expansion of education.

The online copies can be protected and collected to create a virtual heritage of information for the coming generation.

- As long as the internet connection is available it is accessible anywhere and at any moment.

It has solved the problems of deterioration.

This will facilitate access to resources to the students, teachers. It provides scholarly information in the e-format .

-login IDs and passwords have been issued to all the students and staff members for 22,000 resources & 71 periodicals. We have several ebooks , magazines. Moreover, websites of all subjects and journals are also available.

We regularly add new box to our collection to ensure that we can offer our students and staff the most up to date resources for the learning School library works like a tool for encouraging students to become excited about reading. We encourage teachers and students not only to connect with the library but also with librarian. By talking with the school librarian it will help everyone to become familiar with the operation of the library and share current teaching and suggested resources.

DAV public School Ashok Vihar library is really a citizens door to the lifelong learning.